

ARE YOU PREPARED?

BLACK SHIELD STANDS READY TO ASSIST YOU

The world is becoming a more dangerous place. Changing climate patterns have resulted in more frequent, and more violent, extremes of weather and the urbanization of North America has concentrated most of the population in cities where they are vulnerable to natural and human-caused disasters. Furthermore, the deteriorating world security situation has brought the threat of attack to the very heart of our countries.

A rigorous hazard, risk, and vulnerability analysis will identify areas of concern and assist planners to mitigate and prevent risks, a robust and tested emergency plan will prepare organizations for events that occur and guide their response, and a comprehensive recovery plan will speed the return to normalcy.
